Thomas Aurelius Stallworth

We talk with him in the canteen . . . we play with him on the basketball court . . . we study under him in the classroom. His assuring smile, his deep concern, and his genuine faith in the students, the college, and God touch and alter the lives of all who know him. We come to Presbyterian College and we leave . . . we leave taking a part of Tommy Stallworth with us.

Thomas Aurelius Stallworth, for the part of your life that you have shared with us, for your devotion to what you believe to be the truth, and for just being one of us, we dedicate the 1963 Pac Sac to you with our gratitude.

Dr. Gettys explains the faculty evaluation program to the Blue Key at a meeting held in the Stallworth home.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI ranks as the tenth oldest national social fraternity, being founded in 1845 at Yale University. Alpha Psi Chapter, formerly Eta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi, was established at Presbyterian College in 1928.

Homecoming weekend led off the year's social activities and was highlighted by our first place finish in the Homecoming Display Contest. This was followed by our Open Social as rush season got into full swing. Parents' Day was highlighted by the football game and a drop-in for the parents in our fraternity rooms. Rush season drew to a climax with the Alpha Sig Smoker and the pledging of thirteen freshmen. The pledge supper and Christmas Dance Weekend closed out the social events for the first semester. The Alpha Sigs intramural football team took top honors to complete a highly successful first semester for the "Old Gal."

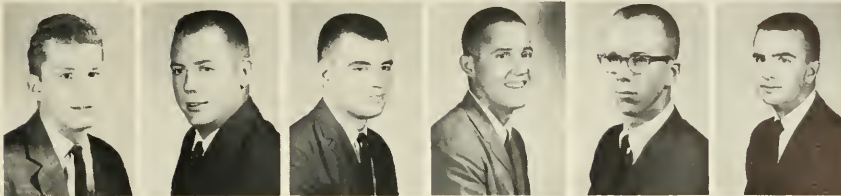

The new semester was begun with a Valentine Party followed by the Black and White Ball held in conjunction with the other Alpha Sig chapters in this area. The closed I.F.C. weekend was held in March; it was followed by the Military Ball. The last dance weekend of the year in May was highlighted by our annual Hawaiian Holiday. Just before exams, a Stag Supper was held in honor of the graduating brothers. Following exams the chapter adjourned to the beach for a few days of fun and relaxation. This year has been one filled with successes for the Brothers and Pledges of Alpha Psi Chapter and leaves the future looking very bright.

KAPPA ALPHA ORDER was founded on the campus of Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, in Lexington, Va. in 1865. The Order was founded under the spiritual leadership of General Robert E. Lee, then serving as President of the college. In 1924, Kappa Alpha Order came to Presbyterian and established Beta Pi Chapter.

With football season beginning the first weekend of school, the KAs started their social season with a post game party held with the KAs from Furman. Post game parties were held after all home games. The annual tea dance held with the Wofford Kappa Alpha Chapter proved to be a great success as the Blue Hose went on to win their first game. Parties were held for the Homecoming weekend, Parents' Day, and Christmas Dance Weekend. Pledge Day saw the culmination of a most successful rush season for the KAs who led in number of pledges.

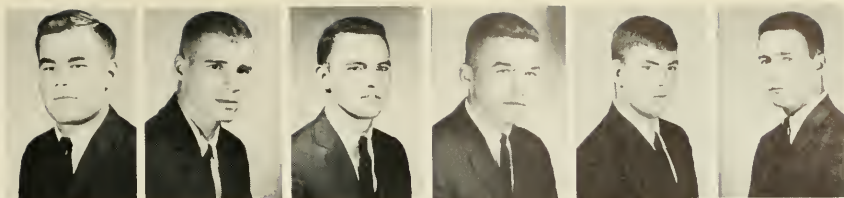

Second semester, the returning KAs celebrated the end of finals with the annual Wild West party. Later, in the spring, the I.F.C. dance and Military Ball were held. The main function of the year, however, turned out to be the OLD SOUTH BALL. The men of Kappa Alpha and their dates returned for a brief weekend to the glorious days of the Old South. The "Sharecropper's Shindig" kicked the affair off; it was followed by the "Secessionest Party," the "Mint Julep" lawn party, and the Old South Costume Ball. The city of Augusta was the site for the weekend, and the hospitality of that southern city will long be remembered by the men of Kappa Alpha Order.

Prior to the Easter holidays, the KA pledges gave the annual "egg hunt" for the children of Thornwell Orphanage. The year was closed out by Greek weekend, the pledge party in honor of the brothers and the farewell supper for the seniors.

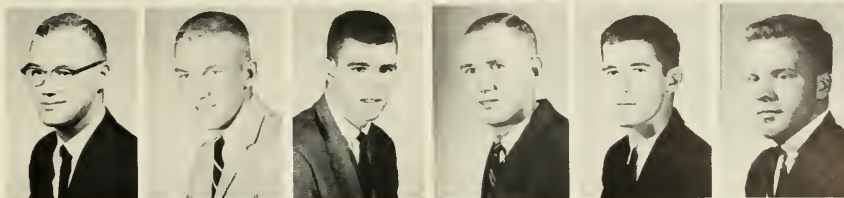

After exams, the house party at Myrtle Beach was held as the last get-together of the year. Beta Pi feels that the beach party closed what might be termed one of the most successful years the chapter has had.

PI KAPPA ALPHA Fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia in 1868. Being a national fraternity, each chapter is an integral part of the brotherhood. The ties which bind the chapters together into one are based on love, sympathy, and friendship. Inspired by high ideals, the fraternity has brought honor and glory to their country, their alma mater, and their fellow men.

Mu Chapter was established at Presbyterian College in 1890, becoming the first national fraternity on campus. This chapter has ranked consistently in the top ten chapters of PiKA.

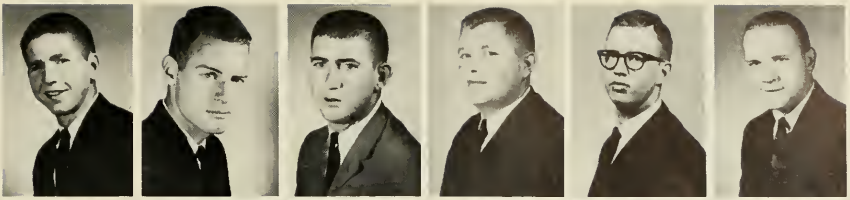

Opening the social activities for the first semester, the brothers held open house for all freshmen one night a week. A barbecue was also held at a nearby farm. Homecoming activities followed next. During the Homecoming weekend a tea was given for the alumni of Mu Chapter. Parents' Day saw the Pikes hosting a social for the freshmen, their parents and the faculty. The Christmas Dance weekend which followed Pledge Day will certainly be remembered as one of the best ever. Huey "Piano" Smith provided the entertainment for a party held at the Hotel Oregon in Greenwood; also during this weekend, a Christmas party was given for the children of Thornwell Orphanage.

Second semester functions included first a party honoring the new pledges, followed by the I.F.C. dance, the Military Ball, the Founders Day Banquet, PiKA Weekend, Roman Holiday and the Greek Weekend. The annual Senior Stag Supper was held in honor of the graduating seniors.

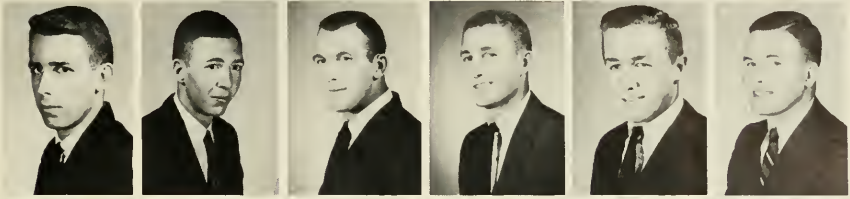

Mu Chapter concluded this successful year with a house party at the beach following final exams and graduation.

PI KAPPA PHI Fraternity was founded at the College of Charleston in 1904. Since its founding, the fraternity has enjoyed a rapid expansion, especially in the South. Beta chapter, Presbyterian College, was incorporated in 1907.

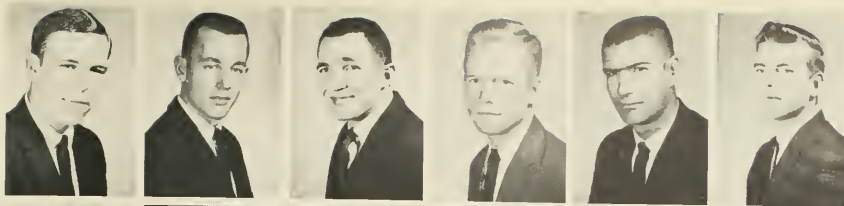

The fraternity got the social season off in fine style with participation in the Homecoming display competition and a party after the Homecoming game. This was followed by the Open Social, Parents' Day reception, Closed Smoker, Pledge Day and Christmas Dance Weekend.

Second semester activities started with the I.F.C. parties; following these, the fraternity suite was redecorated for Military Ball Weekend. The Pledges were entertained by the Brothers at the annual Stag Supper. Before settling down to study for finals, the PI KAPPS closed out their social season with the annual Shipwreck Ball Weekend.

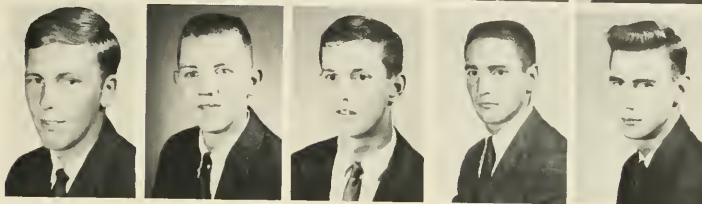

After the finals, the Brothers and Pledges met at the beach for the last fling before summer vacation.

To believe in the Life of Love . . . To walk in the Way of Honor . . . To serve in the Light of Truth . . . This is the Life, the Way and the Light of Sigma Nu; this is the creed of our Fraternity.

This is what caused our founders in 1868 to come together and form what is today one of the largest fraternities in the nation. It was founded at Virginia Military Institute in order to oppose the dishonesty that was then present. Since that time, Sigma Nu has expanded to cover the entire country, finding her way to Presbyterian on January 13, 1951 and forming the Zeta Theta Chapter.

At P.C. Zeta Theta has provided the school with many of its campus officers and has participated in all I.F.C. functions and in the Intramural sports as a top contender.

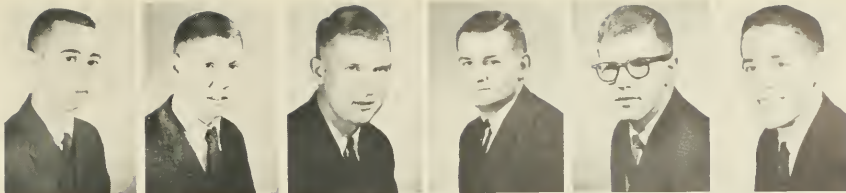

This year was an enjoyable one for Sigma Nu brothers and pledges alike. The first semester saw an intense rush program, containing a successful Open Social and another party for rushees in Rock Hill. Pledge Day arrived and the new pledges saw their first real Sigma Nu dance weekend.

The first semester was highlighted by a second place in the Homecoming display contest and successful parties after the home games.

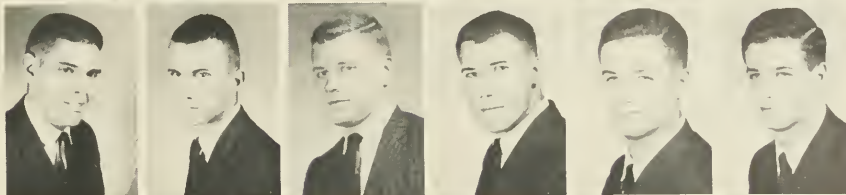

Second semester proved equally successful with several social events including the I.F.C. Weekend, the Military Ball, and White Star, our own formal dance weekend which closed out the year.

THETA CHI Fraternity had its beginning in the Old South Barracks at Norwich University, where it was founded on April 10, 1856 by Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase. From these two men has grown a fraternity which today ranks as the eighth largest in the nation. Beta Psi Chapter was chartered at Presbyterian College on December 5, 1942.

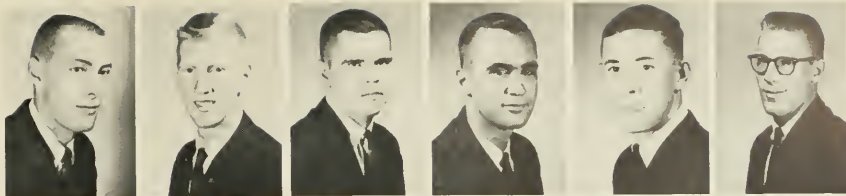

Upon returning to school in September, the chapter found a handsome plaque and a beautiful trophy which had been received by Brother Arthur DeYoung at the National Convention. These were the Stanford Scholarship Trophies, awarded for ranking first scholastically among Theta Chi Chapters at schools with less than 1300 enrollment and for ranking first scholastically among all the Theta Chi Chapters.

The Chapter began its busy rush season with the annual Open Social, the music being furnished by Brooks and his Combo. Soon followed by another rush party in Greenwood, with music this time by the Medallions. The season came to an end the night of Closed Smoker. Eight freshmen were pledged on Pledge Day; they were treated to a steak supper in Greenwood that very same night.

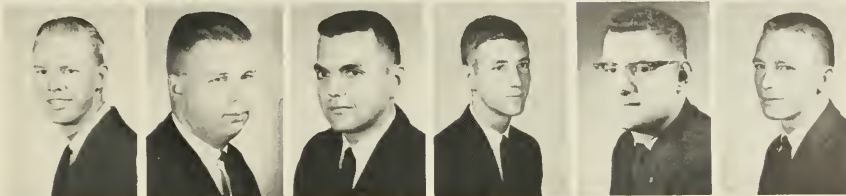

Other events of the year included parties for Homecoming, Christmas Dance, Military Ball, and Greek Week. Parents and friends were welcomed into the fraternity suite on Parents' Day. The annual Rebel Reunion of Region 5 was held in April at Georgia Tech, and proved of great enjoyment to those in attendance. The Chapter received special pleasure from a Christmas Party and an Easter Egg Hunt given to some of the children of Tharnwell Orphanage.

Clyde Walter Ehrhardt

The following editorial by Bob Talbert appeared in "The State" two days after Clyde Ehrhardt's death. It expresses the feelings of the PC student body and everyone who knew Coach Ehrhardt.

CLYDE EHRHARDT represented all that is good and honest and right in sports. Just to have known Clyde Ehrhardt was to know what athletics is about.

His was a soft voice that echoed with strength a thousand times louder than the more verbose, the more blatant, the more sensational of his coaching fellows.

Into the great fabric of a man was woven a simple, honest truth which he lived by, for and with. Sports, to Clyde Ehrhardt, was games where boys earned spurs of manhood. Never once did Clyde Ehrhardt lose this perspective.

In these days when winning seems to have become a synonym for athletics, Clyde Ehrhardt kept an even keel among the sea of muscles and pads and liniment and scorebooks and whistles.

Winning to him came from these things — proper conditioning, proper preparation, proper coaching and proper performance.

Clyde Ehrhardt hated to lose when winning was a possibility, when there had been a chance for victory and it had been botched, butchered or not sought for hard enough. But winning at all costs, the theme of athletics sung by angry young and old men today, was a theory Clyde Ehrhardt could never buy.

No one worked harder or lived athletics more completely than Clyde Ehrhardt. Once, after a Presbyterian College defeat in football that would have meant much to the school, Clyde Ehrhardt summed up his feelings.

"You try not to worry about losing," he said. "You try not to re-play every play in the game. You try not to say 'if' and 'maybe.' You try to look at things and say this is what has happened.

"You take the things that went wrong and find out why. Placing blame for defeat is most difficult. How can I say a young man of 20—who is still searching to find himself and what he is all about — should have blocked this way instead of that?

"Sure, I want to win every time we strap on the pads. Losing has the taste of weakness in it. But if losing can help me strengthen these weaknesses, then that's where I think athletics mean the most.

"What are football games? They are games, that's what. Is a game something which will stop the world turning? I don't think so. We've got some sorry boys and some good boys, but they are all ours, from the best to the sorriest. We do with them the best we can."

Philosophical moods such as this did not come upon Clyde Ehrhardt often. But at the time, this was needed as about him were people bitterly inflicting upon themselves the angry lash of defeat.

This was something Clyde Ehrhardt had — the ability to say and do at the right time the things which pulled everything back into the proper perspective. He was a shoulder for young men to cry on. His was a heart of understanding where fellow coaches went for encouragement. His was a personality that never made an enemy nor lost a friend.

The coaching profession includes phonies, free-riders, the hangers-on. It is filled with men dedicated to themselves, not the program and the institution of athletics. But it has its good men, men with quiet strength and character. These men aren't rare, but every one of them is needed.

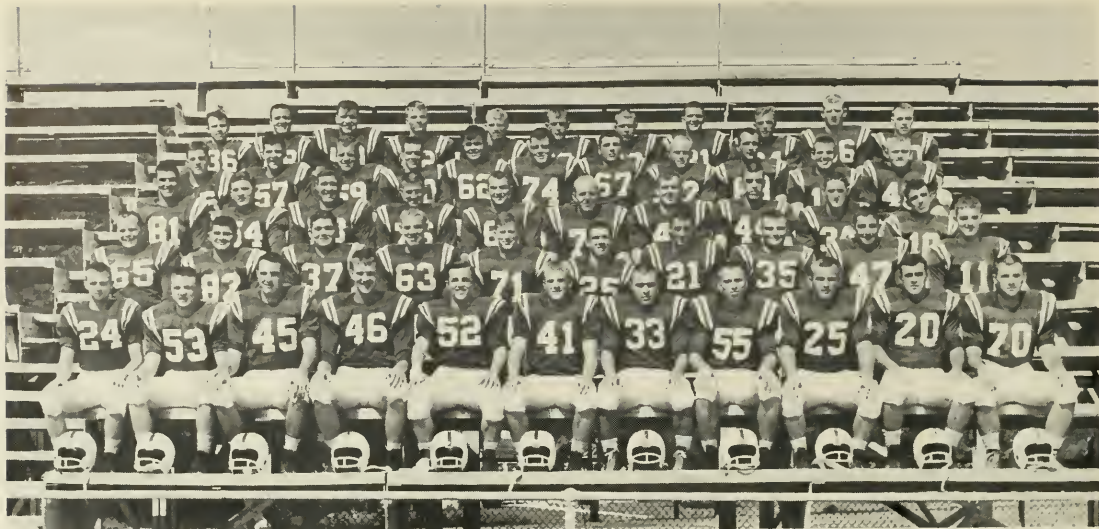

The best men that walk among us can never be replaced when they go. And Clyde Ehrhardt, who died Monday at 41, was perhaps the biggest man who walked among us.

Several days after Clyde Ehrhardt's death, Mrs. Ehrhardt received a Presidential citation honoring Coach Ehrhardt for his outstanding and meritorious service to the country.

Clyde Ehrhardt poses with Vic Spooner soon after he had taken over as Athletic Director.

The Hose, who played one of the roughest schedules of any South Carolina football team, were hampered by injuries to key men, especially in the middle of the line, and were consequently weak in reserves.

The Blue Hose played impressive games against Lenoir Rhyne, Davidson, and Chattanooga, but each time losing in the last few minutes of the game. The team retained its fine spirit throughout the year, but evidently the Hose were not supposed to win this year.

AS THE 1962-63 Presbyterian College basketball season got under way in early December, Coach Charles Musselwhite looked at the year's possibilities with cautious optimism. The squad was relatively inexperienced, with six lettermen returning. Sophomores Bill Talent and Danny Charles, junior Andy Karlsons, and seniors Paul Webb, Joe Harvard, and Jim McGuire were being counted on heavily to join freshmen Doug Allen, Gordon Adam, Jimmy Bankhead, Dick Hughes, John Etchison, and Ben Pickens in the rugged 21 game schedule.

The Blue Hose did well in their first outings of the year as they won their first home game and took second place honors in the Hatters Tournament at Stetson, Fla. Later, the Blue Hose claimed victories over Mercer, Georgia State, Rollins, Wofford, and Saint Andrews. In the seniors' final appearance at home, the Hose played an inspired game against Newberry before losing in overtime.

Overall, the season record was 7-14, but each time they took the floor the team played with effort and determination.

Coach Warden and Captain Wilson.

PROSPECTS for the 1963 tennis team are bright, even though the squad lost three members of the 1962 edition which posted an 18-5 mark. The doubles teams should be particularly strong. Captain Tony Wilson will team with transfer Dodge Frederick to form the number one team. Freshmen Bob Harris and Howdy Letzring will play number two, with veterans Harold Hope and Bill Tyson holding down the number three slot.

The highlight of the schedule, which includes matches with Miami and UNC, will be the return of the State Intercollegiate Tournament to the PC courts after an absence of two years. Tony Wilson is the pre-season favorite to win the state crown.

Frederick wins again.

Harris from the baseline.

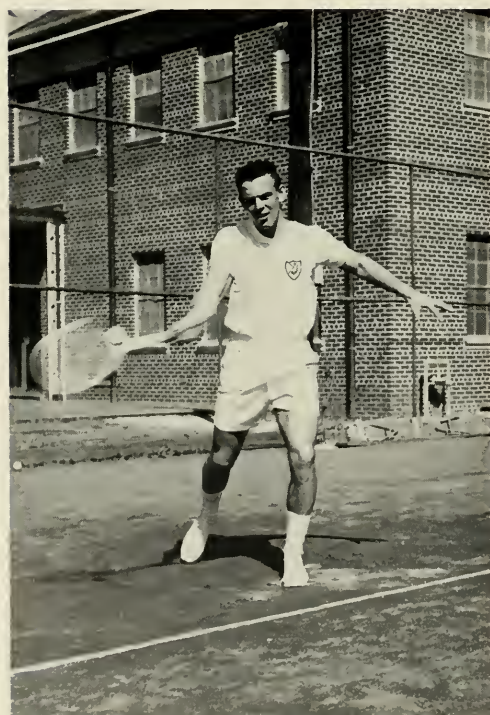

Wilson hits a low backhand.

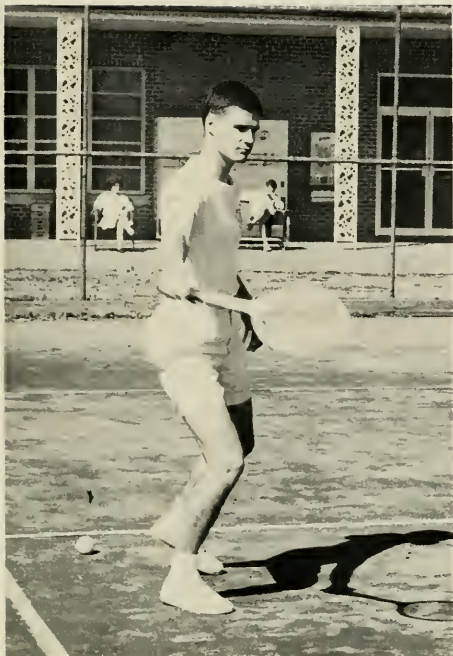

"You're on my side again, Howdy."

Tyson places one down the line.

"Boy, I hope I get a sunton this year."

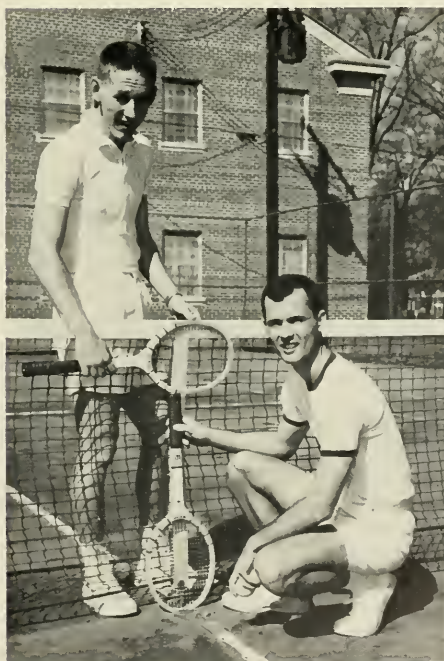

Hope moves to the net.

"Just don't hit me on the head again."

Letzring blasts a serve.

It's certainly not the net.

Kneeling: Chipman, Stewart, Grantham, Elliot, Nix, Lokey, Taylor, Lenair. Standing: Ridinger, Cope, Coley, Dunlap, Parnell, Baiter, Lovett, Riner, Edwards, and Williams.

THE 1963 BASEBALL team is an even bet to improve last year's 2-13 record. With only three returning starters, the balance of the squad will be taken up by new men. The pitching corps should be stronger with the addition of several freshmen hurlers. The team should improve with each game. There are no seniors on the squad.

The long stretch.

Acker and Meyers talk with Coach Warden.

HAVING lost its two top golfers via graduation, the prospects for this year's golf team do not seem bright. The addition of four freshmen will help to fill the gap. Led by Captain Ken Acker and freshman Bill Kellam, the team has a good chance for another winning season.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS are sponsored each year by the Student Christian Association. This year under the direction of Gene Goodwyn, the Intramural Council regulated competition in bridge, pool, ping-pong, and swimming, as well as in all the major sports. In addition, the First Annual Invitational Intramural Basketball Tournament was held at PC, bringing together the All-Star teams from Erskine, Newberry, Furman, and PC.

Over sixty percent of the PC student body participates in at least one intramural sport, with many students engaging in two or more sports.

Pi Kapp Salvo makes long gain before being surrounded by PiKAs.

Intramural Football

The 1962 intramural football crown went to Alpha Sigma Phi, with the independent Bandits coming in second. The ASP's, led by Intramural Player of the Year Donnie Hardee, compiled a 7-3 record en route to their first football championship. The Bandits finished with a 5-4-1 record.

Intramural Basketball

Pi Kappa Alpha won the 1963 basketball championship by virtue of its two victories over previously undefeated Pi Kappa Phi in the double elimination tournament. The lone PiKA defeat of the season came at the hands of the Pi Kappas.

The Intramural All-Stars placed second in the Invitational Intramural Tournament. Led by Knot Culpepper, the PC team defeated Newberry before losing to a taller Erskine team.

"Moose" scores two against the Pounders.

ASP Hardee throws long pass after eluding two KAs.

First the clock . . . then the plant —

When a customer bought 100 cigars from the wholesale grocery firm of H. Cone & Sons in 1870, he received a handsome clock. Some of these clocks are still ticking away. In addition to selling cigars and groceries for their father, Moses and Ceasar Cone sold cotton plaids. Seeing a great future in fabrics, they started the Cone textile enterprises as a selling and commission house in 1891. They built the original manufacturing plant in 1896.

What of Cone Mills Today?

From these small beginnings has come one of the world's largest and most progressive textile firms. With 18 plants employing almost 13,000 men and women, Cone Mills today is the world's largest producer of corduroys, denims and flannels. Its modern printing and finishing operations are turning out a host of other fashion-right fabrics. Cone through its research and development activities is constantly seeking better ways to make better materials.

Examples of Cone firsts in this country are the new, popular stretch denims and corduroys.

To maintain its high standards, our company needs young people with initiative and intelligence. Cone Mills offers opportunities in four areas . . . production, administration, sales and research. Would you be interested in joining such a progressive organization? Write Industrial Relations Department, Cone Mills Corporation, Greensboro, N. C.
